

In 1933 the distribution of Jews by linguistic areas was as follows:

Polish*.....
.....
3,050,000
Russian, White Russian, and Ukrainian	2,825,000
Other Slav languages (Czech, Serbo-Croat, Bulgarian, etc.) .	500,000
Total in countries of Slav language	6,375,000
English.....
.....
5,150,000
Rumanian.....	900,000
German.....	800,000
Arabic.....	775,000
Magyar.....	500,000
Spanish and Portuguese .	350,000
French.....	260,000
Lithuanian.....	160,000
Dutch .	120,000
Greek .	115,000
Lettish.	95,000
Turkish .	88,000
Persian .	60,000
Italian .	55,000
Other languages .	43,000

* This comprises the entire area in which Polish is the official language—therefore also the Ukrainian, White Russian, and Lithuanian provinces of Poland; the next item covers mainly Soviet Russia.

Thus almost one-third of world-Jewry now lives in English-speaking countries, and 40-2 per cent in Slav countries.